Fund drive begins for stricken 11-year-old city youth

Just a month ago, doctors told Mr. and Mrs. Brito Valdez of Canyon their 11-year-old son, Ricardo, has only about a year to live.

Ricardo, riding his bicycle one mid-summer day, fell and injured his collar bone.

But, he thought little of it until some time later, he noticed massive swelling in his shoulder and neck and complained to his mother.

Doctors at Palo Duro Hospital here set the bone and sent young Ricardo home to recuperate.

For three weeks, Ricardo worried about his broken collar bone, and watched as his arm, neck and shoulder swelled.

Finally, one day, he approached his mother.

"Mother," he said, "I think something awful is wrong with me."

Complaining of pains from head to foot, Ricardo was taken again to the hospital where doctors transferred him to an Amarillo hospital for treatment.

The broken collar bone spurred a massive infection which left Ricardo in a coma for nine days.

And, the doctors discovered the 5th grade elementary school student was in the advanced stages of leukemia.

Now, his strength sapped by the disease, Ricardo is home with his parents and two younger brothers on the Bruce Wynn farm north of Canyon. He plays inside with a small electric auto race set his father purchased for him, and he continues his studies with a home-bound teacher provided by the Canyon school district.

He goes weekly to the Amarillo hospital for treatments, but doctors say the disease has a strong grip.

Since early July Ricardo has spent 30 days in hospitals.

In addition to the loss of a son, Brito Valdez faces the possibility of financial disaster as hospital and doctor bills continue to mount.

A migrant from Old Mexico, Valdez has worked for the Wynn family for several years in the farming operation.

The Canyon Community Family Services Association has begun this week a fund-raising drive to help the Valdez family defray some of the medical expenses associated with Ricardo's ailment.

Mrs. Carmen Hernandez, representing the CCFSA, said the Amarillo chapter of a national leukemia association, is providing blood for the many transfusions required for Ricardo.

And, she said others in the community are providing for other family needs.

But, she said money donations are needed to help meet the hospital bills.

Already classmates of Ricardo at Rex Reeves Elementary School have prepared jars for distribution around the city and throughout the school to collect donations, she

Land discussion set in Sept. for schools

The Canyon school board will reopen discussions of the possible annexation by Amarillo of Canyon school district property next month, Supt. Jerry Jacobs said this week.

Jacobs said a meeting is tentatively expected some time between the 10th and 15th of September.

The meeting will probably include representatives from the Canyon school board, and Amarillo school board and area builders and land developers.

Jacobs said the meeting was asked for by area developers and builders and the Amarillo school board will be invited to attend also.

"We want to listen to any proposals they have to offer and any points they'd like us to consider," he said.

A month ago, Canyon School Board Member Ed Wieck asked also that discussions be reopened on the issue. Wieck is one member of a board committee to discuss land annexation with inter sted parties. Other committee members are Board President Tom Keeling, Jacobs and Richard Pruett.

The Canyon board has not met with developers or with representatives of the Amarillo board for more than a year on the issue.

At the last meeting, held in Amarillo, more than a year ago, Amarillo School Board members asked that the Canyon district release as much as 11 sections of land just south of the Amarillo High School property for annexation by the Amarillo school district.

Area developers and builders, both individually and through their Panhandle Builders Association, have called on both school boards to come to some agreement about the lands just southwest of Puckett Place in Amarillo, particularly.

The developers and Amarillo board members contend that the fact the property to the southwest of Amarillo is in the Canyon school district is slowing development of that area and is thus stifling growth of Amarillo.

The Canyon board has consistently refused to give up any land now in the Canyon district.

Only one formal effort at detachment of land from the Canyon district for subsequent annexation by Amarillo has been attempted. Five families in the Glendale addition in south Amarillo petitioned more than a year ago for detachment.

Randall County School Trustees approved the petition last

Amarillo home builders defend motives behind annex desires

The president and executive director of a Panhandle home builders association defended Tuesday night, their stand that Amarillo and Canyon school boards should solve a current land annexation controversy.

Bob Findley and Jim Huey of the Panhandle Home Builders Association, said their concern is for the children involved as they spoke to members of the Canyon schools Committee for Quality Education.

"I can assure you that the only reason we were interested in the school situation is because of the children," Findley said. "We want to see the best things are provided for the children who live in the area."

Findley's and Huey's remarks were aimed at a charge levelled against Amarillo builders two weeks ago by Canyon School Board President Tom Keeling, who said the only persons in Amarillo interested in seeing Amarillo annex Canyon school district land were builders, bankers and developers and their reasons for the interest were not connected to the welfare of the children involved.

The Panhandle Home Builders Association has worked in the past to bring the Canyon and Amarillo school boards together to discuss the transfer of Canyon lands to Amarillo. They contend that Amarillo's orderly southwestern development is stymied because the development land is in the Canyon school district.

Canyon school board members have adamantly refused to allow Amarillo to annex any Canyon lands.

Findley said it is his opinion that Amarillo will continue to grow to the southwest even if the land remains in the Canyon district, but he said he believes the development would proceed at a faster rate were the land to be annexed to Amarillo.

He pointed out that the school district cannot hope to recoup from residential areas the tax monies which would be required to construct new schools in the developing areas and said Amarillo would better be able to finance new school construction.

In other business Tuesday, Bill Davis, chairman of the Quality Education Committee appointed several subcommittees to begin studying the need for new schools or expanded school plants in the Canyon district.

A committee headed by Phil Langen will study the possibility of holding school classes on a year-round basis.

Another committee headed by Mrs. Phil Swatzell will study the possibility of holding two sections of school in each school day.

A committee headed by Mrs. Shirley White will study the possibility of eliminating the cafeteria from the high school to make room for expanded classrooms.

Charles Purcell will chair a committee to study building

Lindsey says Amarillo stalling on fire plan to collect money

Amarillo city officials are trying to make a quick buck by fighting insignificant non-structural fires in the area north of Hollywood Road, Randall County Commissioner Paul Lindsey charged this week, citing this as the reason Amarillo has yet to approve a countywide fire protection plan.

Lindsey, who for more than a year has worked with area fire departments to work up and then implement a fire protection plan for rural areas, indicated Amarillo has balked at acceptance of the plan so it could continue to collect $801 per fire call in rural areas surrounding that city.

"I don't think the taxpayers should pay $800 for a 17-minute run to a wheat stubble fire that was being burned intentionally by the people to get rid of the straw," Lindsey said.

Amarillo city officials say they have made no real moves to accept the fire plan because a current contract between Amarillo and Randall County doesn't expire until Sept. 30.

Randall County commissioners, who sent the plan to Amarillo about four months ago for approval, refused earlier this month to pay for four wheat stubble fires to which Amarillo fire units responded.

"The court presented the contract to Amarillo three or four months ago and asked them to cooperate with us," Lindsey said. "Since then we have paid for I don't know how many of these fires hoping they would get the plan adopted.

Then this last month we got a bill for five fires and four of them were wheat stubble fires."

Commissioners instructed County Judge Woody Pond to inform the City of Amarillo the county would not pay $801 per fire for the wheat stubble fires and this week the county received a letter from Mayor John Drummond noting that the old fire contract which calls for the county to pay that sum for all fires Amarillo responds to in the Amarillo area.

Lindsey admits the county didn't formally cancel the old contract.

But, he says if Amarillo doesn't approve the new fire plan proposal by the contract expiration date of Sept. 30, the county should simply discontinue any contract with Amarillo and continue under the plan as now set out.

"I want to make it clear the county would like to have the cooperation of Amarillo and is willing to pay the charges in connection with structural fires or emergency fires," he said.

But, he contends the stumbling block in negotiations is apparently the unwillingness of Amarillo to give up runs to insignificant fires such as car fires and wheat stubble fires.

"The reason they want to make the insignificant calls is so they can get more money into their fund, which I don't think is a reasonable or economical way to

Hearing request due Wednesday; Caballero defends his stand

Dr. Emilio Caballero, ousted West Texas State University art department head, was to have delivered Wednesday a request for formal hearing on his ouster to University President Lloyd I. Watkins.

Caballero, who a week ago said he had been notified by Watkins that he would not be recommended for retention as head of the art department, told The News Tuesday his attorney was to deliver the request for hearing to Watkins on Wednesday.

Watkins now has 10 days in which to deliver to Caballero "written notice advising him of the causes for his non-renewal or termination in sufficient detail to fairly enable him to show any error that may exist and to have reasonable notice of the basis for his non-renewal or termination."

Watkins also has 10 days in which to provide Caballero with a list of names and the nature of the testimony of all witnesses against him.

Caballero's Wednesday letter and the requirements on Watkins for response were mandated by university regents in an early August meeting as an ad hoc due process procedure applicable only to the case of Caballero.

Caballero would not say Tuesday whether he intended to call for an open hearing on his non-renewal. He said his attorney, George Whittenburg of Amarillo, is still researching the law in relation to an open hearing.

If Caballero wants the hearing open to the public he must give written notice to Watkins within five days before the hearing date.

Within the next 10 days, all department heads of the university are to meet and vote on three of their members to serve as members of the hearing body. During the same period, all deans of the university are to meet and vote on two of their members to serve on the hearing body.

A hearing must be set within the next 30 days, according to the due process procedure.

The regents will have appellate jurisdiction from the hearing body.

Caballero, art department chairman 20 years here, turned in a formal letter of resignation as a department head last January and the resignation was confirmed by regents in

Burglars hit 2 homes to bring total to 14

Two more rural home burglaries reported over the week end bring to 14 the total number of burglaries to rural residences reported in North Randall County since July 21.

Sheriff Cliff Longest said he believes a band of about 10 Mexican-Americans, some of whom were arrested by Potter County officials about three weeks ago and then released on bond, may be responsible for the burglaries.

Longest noted that when the suspects were jailed in Potter County, the burglaries, which to that point had totalled 12, came to a halt. But, he said, after some of the suspects were released last week on bond, the burglaries were resumed.

The two homes hit last week end indicated burglars used the

Enrollment Up In Schools

Canyon high school enrollment for the first time has passed the mark established by the University Interscholastic League for a 4A school.

But, W. Vm. McAlpin, administrative assistant for the local school district, says it'll be a long while before Canyon will be officially classified as a 4A school district. The high school currently competes in UIL athletics and other events in the 3A category.

McAlpin said Tuesday the high school enrollment, including the ninth grade, topped the 1135 figure used by the UIL as cut-off for 3A and 4A categories. Enrollment late Tuesday stood at 1138.

He said, though, under current rules of the UIL a school district must have more than 1135 students in the four high school grades for two years before the classification is changed.

And, he said he's been told the UIL will raise the 1135 limit to a higher number this winter when it considers recategorization for the next two-year period.

He said the UIL will try to double the number of schools now competing in the 3A category and reduce the number competing in 4A.

According to figures released by Supt. Jerry Jacobs Tuesday, Canyon school enrollment is up this fall by more than 115 over last fall at the same time.

The enrollment is expected to climb even higher next week as families return to Canyon for the oening of West Texas State University classes.

Officials have projected a peak enrollment this year of 3434.

Enrollments are up in every Canyon school except Rex Reeves.

Gene Howe Elementary School reported earlier this week an enrollment of 578, compared to an enrollment at the same time in 1974 of 538. Rex Reeves Elementary School has 962 students compared to 974 for the fall of 1974. Canyon Junior High enrollment is up almost 100 from 899 in 1974 to 979 as of earlier this week. Canyon High School reported early week enrollment of 797 compared to 790 for last fall.

School principals reported they are overcrowded on every campus as the new year begins.

Principal Luther Lawless of Gene Howe is operating with four portable classrooms this year.

The junior high has a three-classroom barracks building which is to be completed this week for student use and Principal Dave Corley reports he has only 10 lockers which have not been assigned to students. He said he also has three teachers with no permanent classroom.

Principal John Sommer of the high school said he is at a student maximum to continue doing an effective job of teaching.

Jacobs said he expects between 30 and 50 more students after the Labor Day Week end in Canyon classrooms.

Over-crowding in local schools has spurred talk during the past two years of a bond issue to build a new elementary and high school.

Two citizens committees are now studying that possibility.

Dr. Robert C. Barnes

Counselor Added to Staff For WT Mental Health Unit

Dr. Robert C. Barnes has joined the staff of West Texas State University and will head a long awaited University Mental Health Center.

Vice-president of Student Life, Dr. T. Paige Carruth announced Barnes' appointment became effective August 1.

The special counseling services to be offered by the new staff of psychologists and counselors of the University Mental Health Center are a part of the increased services offered by WT's Student Life offices in an effort to help students obtain maximum benefits from their college experiences, as well as to assist in their achieving the best adjustment for a happy and productive life.

WT has long benefited from its Testing and Counseling Center headed by Dr. Kenneth Waugh where psychological tests and academic advising are offered. According to Associate Dean of Student Life Saundra Meek, the new Mental Health Center will offer counseling for students in times of personal problems and crises.

Temporary headquarters for the University Mental Health Center will be in one of the residence halls while renovation is being completed in a building on campus which will be designated for the permanent home of the new center.

As a university staff member, Dr. Barnes will be involved in helping students face problems relating to personal adjustment on the campus scene, work with drug and alcohol problems encountered by students as well as sexual adjustments and existing family problems as needed.

His role will involve direct counseling and group psychotherapy sessions with students to help them "accept what cannot be changed" and to aid students in developing individual maturity to "face life as it exists."

Before coming to Texas in July, Dr. Barnes was a consulting psychologist in a public school mental health program in Georgia, and was on the graduate faculty of North Georgia College. Both Dr. and Mrs. Barnes hold their Ph.D. degrees from the University of Georgia where Mrs. Barnes was on the faculty before joining her husband in Canyon this summer. Dr. Dorothy Barnes will be on the WT faculty in the College of Education.

For the Barnes family, returning to Texas meant "coming home," because they had lived in Texas for many years before moving to Georgia. Mrs. Barnes is a former member of the faculty at McMurry College in Abilene as well as North Texas State University. Previous to that time, she taught at Kinnaird College in LaHore, Pakistan.

The Barnes family includes one son, Phil, age 16. Although he had been elected president of his junior class for 1975-1976 at his high school in Georgia where he also played football and wrestled, Phil has joined his parents in Texas. Enrolled at Canyon High School, Phil is already in the Eagle Band and Drama Workshop, and is participating in the youth activities at Polk Street United Methodist Church in Amarillo.

Family treasures that have been brought home from travels to such diverse places as India, Hong Kong, Kashmir, Sweden, Peru, Austria, and Morocco in North Africa are all part of the Barnes home at 18 Dellwood in Hunsley Hills, Canyon.

The new director of the University Mental Health Center has received a number of outstanding awards for previous service to others. Among them are the Award of Merit from the National Association from Retarded Children; the Golden Deeds Award for Service to Youth in Dallas, Texas; the Presidential Award from the Texas Christian Educators Association; the Distinguished Service Award from the Boy Scouts of America; the Humanitarian Award from the Texas Mental Health Association; and the Founders Award from the Gerontological Society.

Dr. Barnes is listed in the 1974 edition of "Men of Achievement." Dr. Dorothy Barnes is listed in the 1975 edition of "The World Who's Who of Women." Both Dr. and Mrs. Barnes appear in the 1973 and 1974 editions of "Personalities of the South," and the 1974 edition of the "Dictionary of International Biography."

Service Award For City Woman

Mrs. Arthur (Marilyn) Johnson of 2410 15th Avenue, Canyon was recognized with a ten year service award from Fashion Two Twenty cosmetic products company at an area meeting in Amarillo this week.

Mrs. Johnson has been a sales representative for the company for ten years including four years in Nebraska and six years in Texas. She has attended sales conferences in various states of the United States including Hawaii and received numerous sales awards including two new cars from the national headquarters at Aurora, Ohio.

Her husband is with the West Texas State University History Department and instructs in philosophy courses. The couple has two sons, Brad, a CHS junior, and Randy, a seventh grade student.

Dr. Aslakson To Assume Deanship

New dean of the West Texas State University School of Nursing is Dr. Hazel Aslakson, who came to WT as head of the Department of Nursing in January 1974.

Since that time, the department implemented the senior year of the nursing program, moved into new facilities and enlarged the learning resources lab. Additional well-qualified faculty have been employed, a Master's program has been requested and school status within the University structure has been granted.

Dr. Aslakson will assume the deanship of the new West Texas State school this fall. She brings to the position many years of teaching and administrative experiences. Shortly after completing her basic nursing program she entered the Army Nurse Corps where she served for three years. During this period she had varied experiences in staff nursing. She has taught in both diploma and university school nursing. Prior to coming to West Texas State University, Dr. Aslakson was chief, Project Grants Section, Division of Nursing in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

"Those of us at West Texas State University feel singularly fortunate that a person of Dr. Aslakson's ability and experience will be our first dean of the School of Nursing," said University President Lloyd I. Watkins. "We look forward to working with all segments of the health professions in the Panhandle to help meet the needs for health care in this region."

Future plans for West Texas State University's nursing education include the request for a Master of Science in Nursing degree, which has been submitted to the Coordinating Board of the Texas College and University System. The Coordinating Board will consider this proposal this fall.

"If approved by the Coordinating Board, we would hope to start our master's degree within the next year or year and a half," she said. "The focus of the program will be family health nursing.

"These nurses will be able to assist in delivery of health care in rural and urban communities throughout the Panhandle," she continued. "The master's degree planned by West Texas will prepare the graduate to function as teacher, administrator and/or clinical specialist.

"Our baccalaureate degree students are prepared for bedside nursing in hospitals and to function in community agencies at beginning staff level positions. They are also prepared to assume the role of team leader in all settings," she concluded.

City Buys Furniture

Canyon city commissioners bought $48,000 worth of furniture for their new civic center complex Monday night.

Commissioners accepted the bid of Contract Furniture of Amarillo and Environ, Inc., for office and library furniture for the center.

Contract Furniture is to provide office furniture, lounge furniture, tables, stacking chairs, accessories and miscellaneous items. Environ Inc. is to provide library furniture.

The commissioners rejected other bids for lobby furnishings, dormitory furniture, and library conference room furniture.

City Manager Glen Metcalf told commissioners with the $48,000 in bids for furniture, the city will have spent about $53,000 to date for furnishing the new facilities, which is expected to be occupied by mid-October.

He said he had projected the costs to be about $55,000.

In other business Monday night, commissioners approved payment of $123,000 to Paige and Wirtz Contractors of Amarillo for construction completed during August on the new complex.

Wheat Planting Begins

Wheat planting for the 1976 wheat crop has begun on only limited acreage in Randall County, and County Agent John Brazzil says it will take a good rain to get planting fully underway.

While the county has good subsoil moisture, he said, another good rain will be needed to provide moisture for planting the crop.

Brazzil predicts another large acreage will go into wheat this fall, after Randall County farmers harvested earlier this summer a record crop.

Unlike last fall, the wheat this year will be going into stubbled-covered ground rather than fallow fields.

Brazzil said unless an infestation reoccurs, the young wheat should not be hampered much by greenbugs, which caused major problems for grain sorghum growers this summer.

He said natural parasites have controlled the greenbug population in the maturing grain sorghum and the pest have decreased .o an extent that they will not bother the new wheat.

Biology Grads Do Well After Leaving WTSU

The four West Texas State University graduate teaching assistants in biology leaving this year are going on to bigger and better things, says WTSU Biology Department Head Horace Bailey.

"In a time of competiveness for both professional positions and slots in medical school, we are pleased that our graduate assistants all secured good positions," Bailey notes.

Amarillo student Joel Harp has been accepted to the doctoral program of the Department of Zoology, the University of Tennessee, and will serve as a graduate teaching assistant. Larry McGee, also of Amarillo, will return to Point Park College in Pennsylvania as an instructor and laboratory supervisor in the Department of Natural Sciences.

Bob Riehl of Dalhart will enter the doctoral program in physiology at the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio, while also serving as a teaching assistant. Riehl researched the effects of nicotine on the biological activity of a cell's genes to earn his master's degree from West Texas State this year.

John Phillips of Borger has been accepted by the Texas Osteopathic School of Medicine in Fort Worth. His master's thesis at WT was done in the population dynamics of microorganisms.

Vets Can Get Commissions

Recent changes in Army directives now make it possible for veterans of all services to gain a commission as a US Army second lieutenant with only one or two years of ROTC instruction, according to Lt. Col. Charles Laakso, West Texas State University Professor of Military Science.

"If the veterans have had one or more years of active duty, and can meet the various eligibility criteria, we can offer them credit for the first two or three years of the ROTC program, and pay them $100 per month subsistence while they're in the program," Laakso said.

"After they've completed their ROTC instruction which includes six weeks of advanced camp at Fort Riley, Kansas, and their academic requirements, they will be commissioned as second lieutenants in any one of 13 career branches," the colonel said.

"Generally, we're interested in all veterans. But specifically, we're looking for those veterans who will be juniors or seniors or just beginning their graduate work this fall," he said.

Veterans would generally be familiar with the course material studied in the ROTC basic course, the colonel said.

"The senior or advanced course is the detailed portion of our program. The first half consists of military teamwork and operations, command and staff relationships, operations and intelligence, logistics, and internal defense or counter-guerilla operations," he said.

The second half deals with advanced leadership and management skills in which there is discussion about Army administration, military justice, the Army readiness program, service orientation, and the military aspects of the United States in world affairs.

The Army is prepared to offer some outstanding veterans participating in the ROTC program a commission in the regular Army, which is the more professional side of the Army, and offers a better opportunity to select a career field.

"A prior serviceman with more than two years service would draw maximum pay as a second lieutenant, which is now close to $12,000," the colonel said.

THOUGHT I'D TELL you a little about our trip. We went to see our daughter, Helen and Alfreda Iglehart, who live in Ann Arbor, Michigan. Alfreda's brother, Randall, from San Antonio, was there too.

We went on up into Canada and saw Niagara Falls from both the Canadian and the U.S. side. The falls are even more majestic and beautiful than we imagined them to be. The whole countryside up there is beautiful, with beautiful yards and all kinds of flowers and many kinds of trees.

The Canadians are very proud of their country, they do not allow any billboards along their highways. The only signs along the highways are designation signs, which have a crown on the top of the sign and highway information signs. They do not have a litter problem along their highways. Instead of a "merge left or merge right, they say "Squeeze left or squeeze right."

Every business and a good many private homes fly the Canadian flag, daily. There are many fruit orchards in Canada and tobacco. We saw one sunflower field, lots of corn (which is much shorter than we have here) and dairy herds and lots of fine horses. There were lots of tomato fields and many hay fields.

Helen and Alfreda have been there for just a year, but they know a lot about that part of the country. We went to the Greenfield Village in Detroit where a lot of old historical homes were moved in and restored by Henry Ford. We saw the downtown area of Detroit, where the recent riots were and that was really a disaster area. Most of the businesses in downtown Detroit have bars on the windows and the doors are barred as soon as the business closes for the day.

We also drove on Lakeshore Drive, in Detroit and the homes there, including the Henry Ford, the II estate, are just like the homes you see in the better magazines with spacious lawns, beautiful shrubbery and many are really mansions.

We got to eat Greek food, which is very good. We also had good seafood, excellent Mexican food and some good home cooking.

The churches all are larger than we see here and all very pretty. We really had a nice vacation, thanks to Helen and Alfie.

Popcorn On Sale Sunday From Antique Wagon

Remember when popcorn was a nickel a bag and sold by a smiling vendor standing in front of a gayly-colored steam popcorn wagon?

Some of us don't. But anyone who wishes to relive the old times, or just see what it was like in these years of the American Bicentennial celebrations, should come Sunday, to the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum when they heat again their 65-year-old popcorn wagon to roast free popcorn and peanuts for their visitors.

Donated in 1972 by Tom Babb of Edna, the wagon was later refurbished with gay red and white paint, wooden spoked wheels and shiny brass fittings. All was put in full working order — including the whistle and the toy clown that turns the roasted peanut drum.

Popping time begins at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Museum Annex on the West Texas State University campus. This is the final summer Sunday afternoon of entertainment sponsored by the museum.

Colorado Prof. Gives Talks

Dr. Thomas Sutherland, Colorado State University animal science professor, gave two talks Wednesday to West Texas State University faculty and administration on the lecture method and undergraduate instruction.

He chaired the CSU Task Committee on Undergraduate Instruction, and has received numerous CSU teaching awards and the 1975 Distinguished Teacher Award from the American Society of Animal Science.

His 10:30 a.m. talk on was in Room 101 of the Science Center was open to all faculty and administration. His topics included the definition, historical aspects, weaknesses and strengths of the lecture method, analysis and research, recommendations and conclusions.

Dr. Sutherland presented an "Overview — Report of the Task Committee on Undergraduate Instruction" at 7:30 p.m. in Room 102 of the Science Center to department heads and administration.

The CSU animal science professor is a native of Scotland, and received his undergraduate degree from Glasgow University in 1953. Dr. Sutherland came to the United States to earn both his master's and doctoral degrees from Iowa State University;

He also assisted in developing a cooperative method of instruction in biology for 13 junior and senior colleges in Colorado.

The talks were sponsored by the WTSU Council of Academic Deans for all faculty and administration members who wish to attend.

"TEXAS" Tenth Season Has Record Audiences

As the echoes of "Texas Forever" rolled through the canyons of Palo Duro State Park Saturday evening the 1975 season of "TEXAS" was closed with its largest seasonal audience in the ten year history of the outdoor musical drama.

Written by Paul Green about the Texas Panhandle, the "TEXAS" show this year was onstage before audiences which showed 29 per cent travelling more than 500 miles to see it. Twenty-eight per cent of the audience visitors were from out of state and about 37 per cent of the "TEXAS" patrons were from within a hundred mile radius of the show. The remaining audience percentage traveled more than a hundred miles but less than five hundred miles to see the show in its tenth season.

Only one performance during the season was cancelled by rain.

Memories from the tenth season would include one cast member with so many duties that he ran 2.8 miles each evening in order to fulfill them all; and two elderly ladies who were disturbed because their seats were not together; and an onstage fall which was defended by an audience member with "its professional, must be written in the script;" and a young boy from the audience who listened to the thunder of a storm in the canyon and the thunder of the show and asked during a quiet moment when his voice could be heard across the amphitheater "is that the thunder's mating call."

As the tenth season of the outdoor musical drama was closed Saturday evening plans are already underway for the 1976 season which will open June 16, 1976 and continue through August 21 with no Sunday evening performances except for July Fourth. Auditions for the 1976 season will begin in January and for additional information about the show write to Box 268, Canyon, Texas, 79015.

City Student Takes Degree

Mark E. Chitwood of Canyon received his undergraduate degree from Texas A&M University.

Chitwood is the son of Rex E. Chitwood of 700 Taylor Lane. He received his degree in animal science.

TAMU had a record 854 degrees awarded at summer commencement, including 508 undergraduates, 264 master's and 82 doctorates.

Emmett Kelly Jr.
for Southwestern Bell

Our weekend One-Plus rates are so low that you can talk awhile and still spend less than a dollar. For instance, a five-minute coast-to-coast Long Distance call dialed direct all Saturday and Sunday until 5 p.m. is only 86¢. An out-of-state call spanning fewer miles costs even less. If you can't wait till the weekend these same low rates are in effect every night from 11 p.m. to 8 a.m.

Where One-Plus dialing isn't available, One-Plus rates apply on station calls. If you dial direct and reach a wrong number, call the operator. You won't be charged.

Travel by Long Distance... and stay awhile.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The City of Canyon, Texas, will hold its second public hearing concerning the Community Development Block Grant program on September 8, 1975 at 7 p.m. This hearing will be conducted in the Canyon Community Center, 300 16th Street.

Citizen participation has been designated by Federal guidelines as an important requirement in the application process of Community Development funds. To meet this requirement, two public hearings must be held. The first public hearing was held December 30, 1974. Since this time, the City of Canyon has received an invitation from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to file a full application for Community Development Discretionary Block Grant assistance. HUD has suggested the full amount of $22,000 be used for street paving as indicated in the pre-application submitted in February, 1975.

This public hearing is designed to offer the citizens the opportunity to actively be a part of the planning process of identifying community problems, setting goals, establishing programs and priorities. It will also include presentation designed to provide information to citizens concerning the amount of funds available, the limitations for application submittals, type of programs eligible and ineligible for funding, program requirements concerning environmental reviews, requirements of the City as to time tables, data required for applications, and conformance with other Federal laws. Various staff of the City will be assigned at the public hearing to assist citizens to understand the different program requirements of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974.

This public hearing is intended to be used to identify needs and programs which will be consolidated into the final application to be submitted to HUD for approval.

November but Canyon School Board members appealed the decision to the Texas Education Commissioner last January. An answer from the commissioner on the appeal is still being awaited.

Wieck called during a school board meeting a month ago for the Canyon board to resume talks on possible detachment with the developers and the Amarillo board, saying the Canyon board should keep an open mind on the subject.

Booster Club To Serve Ice Cream Friday Nite

The Canyon Eagle Booster Club will begin the football season with an ice cream social following a varsity scrimmage Friday evening here.

The club, headed this year by President Jim Ward, will provide ice cream for the affair which will begin immediately after the varsity scrimmage against Plainview's Bulldogs, which is to begin at 6 p.m. at the CHS practice field.

Coaches and players are to be introduced during the social.

The Booster Club met Monday night and laid other plans, too, for the year. They plan to charter a bus to travel to the Eagle's season opener against Monterrey of Lubbock next Thursday night in Lubbock.

Reservations for the trip, which will cost $5.50 per person, should be telephoned to Phil Langen at 655-2080.

The bus is to leave Canyon at 4:30 p.m. Thursday.

Other officers of the Booster Club are Buell Martin, vice president, and Linda Brazile, secretary.

The club meets each Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the visual aids room of the high school to view game films of varsity and junior varsity action.

Weather To Be Studied

Weather and atmospheric phenomena will be studied again this fall at West Texas State University in Meteorology 203-1 on Wednesday nights at 7 p.m.

"This course is a survey on the subject on meteorology," says Dr. William Beasley, course instructor and assistant professor of physics.

He will cover cloud identification, forecasting, storms, general circulation of the atmosphere and "what goes into making the weather happen."

The course, available in physics and geography has no prerequisites.

Registration for this and other West Texas State University courses will be August 29 and 30 in the WTSU Activities Center, according to the prescribed schedule.

For more information, telephone the registrar at 656-3331.

Locals Driving In Area Race

Several Canyon residents will be driving this weekend in the season championship races at Southwest Speedway in Amarillo.

They include Mickey Brown, driver of 88, Howard Blevins, driver of the semi-late 41G, and Jess Arnold, owner of the semi-late 99.

The races begin at 8 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the speedway, which is at NE 24th and Folsom Road Drive.

February.

Then, in June, Caballero withdrew his resignation, claiming it had been coerced by Dr. John Green, dean of the School of Fine Arts, and asked to be reinstated.

At their August 4 meeting, regents reinstated Caballero and set up the due process procedure to be used in the event administrators formally terminated Caballero as head of the department.

Caballero said he was notified that he would not be retained as department head on Aug. 19 by letter from Watkins. The same letter, he said, offered him a full professorship in the department.

In other developments this week, Caballero issued a statement to the press underscoring his intention to fight the ouster.

The text of his statement follows:

"Under the circumstances — a heavy teaching load, a part-time secretary, committee assignments plus all the other assignments in relation to this department — I feel I have been an excellent administrator. As the hundreds of students I've counselled or who've come by my office every day plus these administrative duties.

"It is impossible to equate my duties as art department head to the duties of other department heads. There's no basis by virtue of the disciplines for comparison.

"Yes, I'm calling for a full hearing for the reasons of my non-reappointment as department head of the art department. My name, my reputation have been smeared and damaged by false innuendo and rumors by the failure in the past by administrators to cite their charges against me. I would like the opportunity through my attorney at this hearing to question Dr. Watkins and Dr. (Ray) Malzahn and Dr. Green about why they want me removed.

"While we all recognize the power of the President of the United States to act as the executive and make administrative decisions, the last year has taught us an executive action is subject to review and constraint whether by the U. S. Congress in the case of the President of the United States or by this committee and the Board of Regents in the case of a university president. The use and abuse of power in view and in light of the day, shows there should be no general rule to allow any one man absolute and unquestioned power."

handle taxpayer money," he said.

The county-wide fire plan worked up by Lindsey, along with a committee made up of area fire chiefs, went into effect about four months ago with the cooperation of the fire departments from Canyon, Bushland, Umbarger, Happy and Lake Tanglewood.

Under the plan, Canyon's volunteer fire department is responsible for fighting fires throughout the county and coordinates the fire fighting efforts of each of the area departments.

If Amarillo discontinues participation in a fire contract, Canyon would assume responsibility for fighting all fires in the area north of Hollywood Road, according to Lindsey.

Under the proposal, should Amarillo accept the fire plan, that city's fire units would respond only to structural fires in the area immediately surrounding Amarillo.

Lindsey said Canyon, with new rural fire-fighting equipment and a large volunteer department, is more able to fight well rural wheat stubble and grass fires than is Amarillo, with fire equipment basically adapted to structural-type fires.

Canyon, too, he said, is equipped with additional water supply facilities.

Mayor Drummond said Amarillo city commissioners have discussed the Randall County proposal with Assistant City Manager Jerry McGuire but have several details to work out.

McGuire indicated the hold up on approval of the plan by Amarillo is the differentiation between structural fires and grass or wheat fires in the rural areas.

He said it might often be necessary for an Amarillo fire unit to answer a rural fire call without knowing beforehand what kind of fire it is they are to fight.

He said the city of Amarillo has not approved the plan yet because the current contract is still in effect until Sept. 30, but hopes to meet with Lindsey in the near future to discuss the proposal.

needs in general in the district.

David Kent will chair a committee to study the present and future facilities for extra-curricular activities.

The committee is to meet again at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 9 at the school administration building.

Burglars. . .

same modus operandi in all 14 burglaries.

The home of Wayne Wallis, at the Hollywood Road and Washington Street intersection, was hit between noon and 4:30 p.m. Thursday as burglars removed the screen from a bedroom window to gain entrance.

Reported stolen was $2000 worth of goods including a microwave oven, camera, stereo, portable color television set, two guitars, two amplifiers, a movie projector, bedspread and $22 cash.

As in the other 12 burglaries, Longest speculated the burglars used the bedspread to carry the other goods from the home.

The home of Jack Altman, at the east edge of White Fence Farms, was hit about 6 p.m. Sunday, again as burglars removed the screen from a bedroom window to gain entrance.

About $1555 worth of property was reported taken in the burglary, including a microwave oven, two portable television sets, a stereo, a shotgun, several rings, several watches, two tape recorders, a calculator, and a bedspread.

Longest called on residents living in rural areas to watch their neighbors' homes and to report any suspicious persons, cars or activities to the sheriff's office.

'Tour of Countries' Ends Summer For Heritage Club

Heritage Woman's Club completed a summer filled with activities at an International Affairs progressive event Saturday evening where members and their husbands were entertained with a "tour of countries."

The Saturday evening event started with a visit to India at the Steve Wisniewski home where a film on India showing the customs of the country was shown.

The membership and guests then visited China at the Nick Cavrich home where they were served the customery "tea" and viewed a display of Chinese artifacts.

Next stop of the tour was at the Carl Hollabaugh home which was in Peru. Mrs. Hollabaugh gave a study revue of the country and served fresh orange slices to the group.

For a visit to Haiti, the group dismissed to Conner Park adjacent the George loudder home where Mrs. Loudder was hostess discussing the ways and means of living in Peru and serving a course of beans which are native to that country's diet.

The final stop of the evening was in America at the Mike McAtee home where the traditional cookout feast of hamburgers, baked beans, potato salad and apple pie were served. Decorations featured a bi-centennial theme with miniature American flags on the tables.

Other events during the summer for Heritage Woman's Club were a number of handicraft workshops in the homes of various members, workshop sessions on the yearbook planning and preparation, and a membership-husband cookout during July in Palo Duro Canyon themed after 'Texas Heritage' with the group discussion pioneer life around the campfire.

The HWC officially begins the fall season with a meeting set for September at the Randall County Courthouse for a program on "The Law — The Juvenile." On September 4, the club membership will hostess a Tupperware party at Canyon Girl Scout Building for all community women beginning at 7 p.m. Proceeds from the sale will be used by the club for federation expenses of the coming season.

The cookout feast for Heritage Woman's Club members and husbands was an end of summer event last Saturday evening. Bi-centennial themed decorations were used for the final stop of the progressive affair as several members' husbands gathered at the table filled with traditional hamburger fixings of the American diet.

Sociology Dept. Gets Federal Funds For Year

The West Texas State University Department of Sociology will receive almost $117,000 in the upcoming year to further develop and enrich the Social Work Education Program in operation at WT since spring 1972, according to Sociology Department Head, Hubert Oppe.

Granting the money are the US Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Texas Department of Public Welfare.

This money includes $57,000 for scholarships which are given on a basis of need to full-time social work majors, with preference to those of ethnic minority groups with academic and leadership potential.

This scholarship, one of the most generous at the University, consists of monthly stipends and tuition reimbursements totalling $1,900 per student. The department expects to assist about 30 students.

"Since the 1972-73 school year, the deprtment has helped 56 individuals," Dr. Oppe said, "most of whom would not have been able to pursue a college career otherwise."

He also noted that an informal report from the Coordinating Board states that West Texas State has the second largest program in Texas in terms of output of social work graduates on the baccalaureate level. During the spring 1975 semester, the WT program had over 100 majors and by May had graduated an accumulated total of 60 students.

Social workers practice in family, child welfare and public welfare agencies, in courts as probation and parole officers, in hospitals, school and community centers as counselors, and in children's homes and clinics. Social workers participate in helping to solve problems associated with disadvantaged children, troubled youth, disturbed family relationships, social and cultural deprivation, racial injustice and physical and mental illness. The job outlook, according to federal and state statistics, is between good and excellent through the 1980's.

Those who qualify for the program and are genuinely interested in the helping profession should forward scholarship applications to Dr. Oppe at Box 826 WT Station, Canyon, Texas 79016.

Materials For Fall

By BECKY HALL
County Extension Agent

One of fall fashion's biggest hits will be the crinkled gauze look.

Heavier fabrics such as duck have a crinkled surface to give the gauze effect, and sheer doubleknits that imitate gauze are available.

Crinkled polyester chiffon will make its appearance in loungewear.

One variation on gauze fashion is striped gauzes with a 3-D look due to alternating solid and sheer areas.

Open work gauzes in stripes will be seen. Also double-woven fabric — smooth on one side and crinkled on the other — adds to this fashionable look.

Surface textures play a popular role in fall fashions. Use of ribs, slubs and nubs will continue, as will blending in fur or rabbit hair for a soft look.

One of the newer looks is shiny flecks and lines made by using very shiny yarns periodically in a dull fabric.

Lightweight synthetic yarn knitted to look like terry cloth will be available, too.

Both knitted and woven fabrics will be lighter in weight, continuing the soft look of summer. Traditional weaves, such as twill, gabardine and poplin will be seen.

Prints continue important, too. Pointillistic dots are used for landscapes and florals. Calico prints and art deco geometrics are still news. An addition to these is the "marbelized" print in monotones and tricolor combinations.

Comfortable, durable and affordable, jeans express attitudes compatible with active, fun sport and leisure activities. Typical jean styling includes double top stitching, back patch pockets, rivets and a back yoke.

Jeans and the jean-look are among today's most popular garments.

Fireplaces Focal Point For Home Year Round

Create a mini-atmosphere by decorating your own fireplace to suit the season. With the addition of favorite accessories, it can become a year-round focal point.

If the fireplace is often used for cozy, wood-burning fires, then you will want the fireplace equipment to be efficient as well as decorative. It should be chosen carefully.

When the fireplace isn't burning wood, try filling it with cut greenery and assorted chunky candles in bright colors. Baskets are effective, too, and can serve as extra storage space for fireplace tools.

Whatever your spruce-up plans, start with a good clean-up of the fireplace to remove last season's wood-burning build-up of grease, grime and odor-causing soot.

Check the damper first, and make sure it opens and closes easily. The damper should be closed whenever the fireplace isn't in use.

Brush all hearth and interior surfaces with a natural bristle brush (steel will harm the bricks and tiles). Sweep the ashes into a pail and save; experts say a layer of ashes spread under the grate will help the next fire light more quickly.

After brushing the fireplace and removing the ashes, wash the face and surrounding area of the hearth with full-strength, grease-cutting solution; then rinse. Accessories, such as solid brass hoods and andirons, can be cleaned with a diluted solution and then polished with a brass cleaner.

Chimneys are a favorite nesting place for birds and squirrels, so if you haven't used the fireplace for a while better check and see if the chimney is sheltering any before it is lit. A good way to keep this from happening again is to cover the aperture with a grate.

Sr. Citizens Building Group To Meet Tonite

A special building committee of the Canyon Senior Citizens Association will meet at 6 p.m. today at the community center to begin plans for renovation of the senior citizens center.

The committee consists of Paul Glovier, chairman, and Ralph Ruthart, Bill Downing, Felix Pierce, Clarence Beckman, Mrs. Flossie Johnston, Kittie Metcalf and Mrs. Frank Begert.

Glovier said tentative plans call for the committee to repanel, recarpet and redo the basement portion of the center, which is the old First Christian Church building. Bathroom facilities will be remodeled.

He said the building committee and the association appreciates donations given so far which have enabled the group to purchase the old building.

He said more donations are needed, though, to see through the remodeling effort.

School Board Okays $3.4 Million Budget

Canyon school board members took less than an hour Tuesday night to approve a $3.4 million operating budget for 1975-76.

The budget is a half million dollars more than the 1974-75 budget which was amended and approved during the meeting.

Ronnie Wood, school business manager, told board members the budget will require $30,000 from the school district surplus account.

It also required a seven-cent tax increase which board members okayed earlier this summer. The tax rate for the year is $1.92 per $100 on 40 per cent of valuation.

Revenue for the budget is projected to be $3,440,730 and expenditures are expected to total $3,470,820.

Instructional costs, including teacher payroll, will take up more than half the operating budget or about $2.2 million.

Wood said the $30,000 reduction in the surplus account will leave about $143,000 in that account.

He said increase gasoline and supply costs caused the bulk of the budget increase.

Board members hired Columbian Securities Corporation as financial advisors for the anticipated November bond issue for construction of new schools.

They also reviewed enrollment for the current year.

Underwriter Program Offered

Two parts of the Chartered Life Underwriter Program at West Texas State University will be taught this fall.

Economic Security and Individual Life Insurance will meet Tuesdays at 2:30 p.m. in Room 118 of the University Complex South. This course is the first in the CLU series.

$224,000 Is Low Bid For Building Repairs

Bids turned in Tuesday for repair and remodeling of the old administration building at West Texas State University were far under the $338,000 allocated by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to cover the project cost.

Apparent low bidder was Wiley Hicks, Jr., with a bid of $244,152 for the job.

Other bids ranged from $258,000 to $287,000.

The low bid includes the addition of fire escapes and replacement of stand-pipe fire hose units in the building, which was damaged by fire in late June.

WTSU Financial Vice President Hermas Miller said the low bids were made possible because of the work already accomplished in the building by the WTSU maintenance department.

"They've done about $100,000 worth of work," he said.

To be added to the bids will be an 8 per cent architect fee and miscellaneous equipment damaged in the fire.

Briscoe allocated the $338,000 from legislated emergency funds for the remodeling of the building.

Jury Returns 12

Randall County grand jurors returned 12 indictments Monday morning.

Those indicted were Scott Alan Adams, on a charge of burglary of vehicle; Martin Curtis Howard, on a charge of burglary of a vehicle; Virgil Joe Lucero, on a charge of burglary of a habitation with intent to commit theft; Oscar Jaquez Madrigal, on a charge of burglary of a habitation with intent to commit theft; Danny Lee Marutzky, on a charge of attempted burglary with intent to commit theft; Manuel Ramos, on a charge of burglary of a habitation with intent to commit theft; Willie Frank Myers, on a charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense; Leslie Carter, on a charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense; Clifford West, on a charge of burglary with intent to commit theft; Sammy Cooper, on a charge of burglary with intent to commit theft; and Lavone Maden, on a charge of burglary with intent to commit theft.

One man indicted by the grand jury has not yet been arraigned.

Writing To Be Offered

Specialized writing techniques for professional persons will be taught in Literature and Writing for Non-English Majors, a course at West Texas State University this fall.

"This is for the student who would like to feed his major by an elective in English," says Hope McKenzie, the course instructor.

The students will read fiction, non-fiction, professional magazines and journals in their own fields from reading lists provided to Mrs. McKenzie from department heads on campus.

"They will also do practice writing in various forms following the editorial and professional magazine requirements in their majors," she said. "We will look at what you do when you publish and how to work with editors."

She will also show her students "how to read and get the most out of a book."

Mrs. McKenzie will use her own book, "A Rhetoric and Handbook for Non-English Majors," in this class. A special highlight of the book is the "magic pages," which have every rule for punctuation a writer would need.

"I want the student to be able to write on the same level as their profession requires," Mrs. McKenzie said.

The course will culminate in the project at the end of the semester of the student's own choosing.

Literature and Composition for Pre-Professional Students, English 203-1, will be taught Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings beginning at 9 a.m. in Room 420 of the University Complex South.

Registration for this and other West Texas State University classes will be August 29 and 30 in the WTSU Activities Center. For more information, contact the registrar at telephone 656-3331.

Square Dancers Meet Here

Canyon Capers Square Dance Club met Monday evening from 8:00 until 10:30 p.m. at the Junior Livestock Building with Knox Day calling and Louis Thomas giving a tip.

Six couples were present for the club's regular weekly dancing. The club will not meet Monday evening, September 1.

Insurance Classes Set

Two evening insurance classes are being offered at West Texas State University this fall.

Part two of the Chartered Property Casuality Underwriter certificate program will be taught by Fred Leach on Monday nights. This advanced insurance certificate program has five sections, each ending with a four-hour exam.

Insurance Institute of America, Adj. 32, is available Thursday nights with Mrs. Leslie Pray. This intermediate insurance certificate program has three parts. A section of IIA Ins. 32 will be set up for Tuesday nights if minimum enrollment requirements are met.

Order blanks are available for texts and outlines.

Registration for these evening classes at West Texas State University will be August 30 from 10:40 a.m. to 1:20 p.m. in the Student Activities Center.

For those seeking an undergraduate degree, registration for one of these classes would be under Business Administration 412-1, for a second would be BA 211-1. Nor graduate credit, a student should register for one as 5516-1 and a second as 5513-1.

Total tuition and fee cost for three hours is 69.95, and for six hours is $89.90.

For more information, telephone Dr. Zeke Marchant at 656-2317.

Special Writing Course Set

Technical Writing, a skills course in practical communication, will be taught at West Texas State University this fall on Wednesday nights beginning at 7 p.m.

"The students should acquire facility in handling various basic techniques of technical exposition, in writing business letters, in constructing some common kinds of reports, and in writing a long research report," says Dr. Gerald Craven, the course instructor.

He will also familiarize the students with requirements of good style in technical writing, with problems of organization and with methods of writing introductions, conclusions and transitions. Also covered will be the standards of good format, coordination of graphic aids with exposition and skills in finding and using published information.

"Technical Writing, English 370, is designed for juniors, seniors and graduate students," Craven says. "Undergraduates will be encouraged to submit a term paper which they are simultaneously submitting to another professor for a course in their major or minor field."

This is the second time that Dr. Craven has taught the course. Registration for this and other West Texas State University courses will be August 29 and 30 in the WTSU Activities Center. For more information, telephone the registrar at 656-3331.

Record High Enrollment At Gene Howe

By KAROLYN FARMER

HONESTLY, IF ONE more person asks me why I cut my hair off and bleached it blond, I think I'll move into Doris McKee's storm cellar and you'll never hear from me again.

It's not that I haven't enjoyed my stay at Siesta Park the last few weeks — it's a great place to visit, but . . .

Anyway, I hope to have my face back in its rightful place this week, which is, of course, alongside the Gene Howe News.

I really wouldn't have minded the confusion, except that every week I got halfway through Doris's column before I realized it wasn't really mine. (Does that make any sense?)

And now that the kids are all back in school, too, I can put my tranquilizers back on the shelf and get back to normal. (Surely you didn't think some of those weird things I've been writing this summer were the real me, did you?)

Editor's Note: Our apologies to columnists who haven't been able to find their own pictures accompanying their columns several times in the past few weeks. To err is human, and guess we all do that sometimes, we expect our columnists to have their own pictures accompanying their columns in future issues — and by the way area columnists and the staff at the Canyon News do appreciate newsy information anytime.

JUST IN CASE you don't believe school has really started, just ask one of the 578 "little darlings" now attending classes at Gene Howe. That was the total enrollment as of this past Monday, with still more coming in every day.

This is, of course, a record high enrollment for our school. At the end of school last spring Gene Howe had 555 students.

Some adjustments have had to be made in the classroom arrangements this year to make room for the new kindergarten classes, etc. I'll be reporting more about the new classes and changes as the year goes on.

Mrs. Green and Mrs. Shoemaker have moved their classes into the two new portables which have been installed. Both teachers and their students had to operate without the luxury of electricity for the first few days of school, but by this time the lights should be on and the air conditioners should be blowing.

On Monday the teachers in LLD, speech, special reading and the other specialized subjects began conducting their classes. During the first three days of school all of the children had remained in their homeroom classes for the full day.

MR. LAWLESS, ERNESTINE Harp and Suzy Zevely played host and hostesses to the kindergarten students on Monday. Each of the classes visited the school office and the principal's office.

Of special interest to our youngest children was the PA system in Mr. Lawless's office which he uses to make school announcements.

THIS YEAR WE have not one, but two, new P. E. aides at Gene Howe who are assisting Gary Beasley in his physical education classes.

Darlene Plank, who is P. E. aide for the morning hours, is already well known to most of us in the Gene Howe area. The Planks reside on Hollywood Road west of the Canyon Expressway where John engages in farming and ranching.

Darlene and John have two children: Stephanie, who is eight years old and is in Mrs. Langen's third grade class; and John David, who is two years old.

Darlene grew up in Follett, where her parents still live. She is a licensed beautician and has done sewing professionally. Her hobbies include gardening and all kinds of handcrafts.

Darlene is president of Heritage Woman's Club of Canyon this year and has been chosen as Outstanding Young Woman by her club. She, along with other women representing Federated clubs from all over the nation, will be considered in the selection of the Ten Outstanding Young Women of America which will be made later this year.

The Planks are members of the First Baptist Church in Canyon where Darlene formerly taught in the 3rd and 4th grade department.

DIANE BOYLES IS serving as P. E. aide for the afternoon hours this year. She grew up and attended schools in Perryton where she was also captain of the girl's volleyball team in high school and a former classmate of our own Suzy Zevely.

Diane is now a sophomore student at WT and is a member of Delta Zeta sorority. She is single, lives at the Co-ed Apartments in Canyon, and this is her first year to serve as a P. E. aide. She loves all sports and enjoys participating in intramural activities at WT.

DAVIDA EMANUEL HAS joined the staff of teachers at Gene Howe this year. Davida taught language and learning disabilities at Rex Reeves for the last three years.

Davida is now part of the Early Childhood program which has been newly instituted in the Canyon Schools. She will be working with 3, 4 and 5 year old children on an individualized basis.

The Early Childhood program seeks to help pre-school children who have learning difficulties to develop their motor skills, language and speech abilities.

Davida is a graduate of Tascosa High School in Amarillo and graduated from WT where she majored in elementary education. She also received kindergarten and special education endorsements. Davida lives in Amarillo, is single, and is a member of Zeta Phi Alpha sorority.

I hope to visit her classes before long and help you get better acquainted with Davida and with the Early Childhood program at Gene Howe.

SYMPATHIES ARE EXTENDED to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cates and family. Sherrie's grandmother, Mrs. D. H. Wood, passed away this week. Mrs. Wood was 83 years old and was a resident of Amarillo.

Sherrie Cates' sister, Mrs. Ken (Donna) Heitmiller and her children, Melanie and Dale Dean came from their home in West, Texas on Monday to attend the services for their grandmother.

Ronnie Cates, who had just arrived back at Baylor to begin his fall classes, also accompanied the Heitmillers.

MARK LAWLESS AND Ronnie Cates are both scheduled to begin their fall term at Baylor University this week.

Mark, who has been working for the City Manager of Waco this summer, will be a senior student. His father, Luther Lawless, tells me that Mark has already begun working out in preparation for a great year in track.

Ronnie Cates is a junior at Baylor where he is majoring in pre-med.

BILL DEE SETH will be leaving this week end for Tech where he will be enrolled as a freshman. Happy Birthday Wishes go to Bill Dee, who celebrated his 18th birthday on Wednesday, August 27th.

HANK CANNON, MARK Handley, Mike Johnson and Bill Dee recently returned from a camping trip to Red River, N.M. and Platora, Colo. In Platora the boys joined Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Cannon, Hank's parents, who had gone to Colorado a few days before.

When I asked Bill Dee if they did any fishing, he told me that Hank and Mark had each purchased a 10 day fishing license for five dollars, and then only fished for thirty minutes.

FRANCES AND JERRY Cannon, Jean, Martha, Carmen and Richard, along with Hank and Jerry's mother, Mrs. Ruby Cannon of Tucumcari, N. M. all returned from their trip to Platora Reservoir the day that school started.

The Cannons enjoyed the fishing and the beautiful mountain scenery while in Colorado. It was really a special trip for Richard, who is only three years old — he caught his first fish.

Frances also added a little bit to the above story about the camping trip. It seems that Bill Dee Seth had planned a trip to Red River and offered to bring Hank on up to Colorado to join his parents. Bill Dee and the other boys left all their camping gear in Red River, but when they got to Platora, they decided that was the better place to stay.

So all four boys headed back to Red River to retrieve their gear and then returned to Platora to spend the last night of their trip there. Unfortunately for the boys, who were sleeping in Bill Dee's tent, the temperature got down to 30 degrees that night.

ANITA HARP HAS really begun her first year as a kindergarten teacher in a big, and imaginative way. As I entered Anita's afternoon kindergarten class this past Monday, I found teacher and children sitting in a huge plastic "bubble." The bubble was connected to and inflated by a large fan. When inflated, it's about six feet high and is large enough for the entire class to sit in comfortably.

While sitting in the bubble, the children identified many objects which Anita pulled from a box. They included scissors, pencils, glue, crayons and many other things which the children will use in the classroom.

Anita also gave the children an opportunity to tell what the objects were (and were not) used for. (For example, the children agreed that it's not a good idea to use a stapler on their fingers.)

Anita also informed the class that the next day they would have a chance to each reach inside the box and try to identify one of the objects just by feeling of it.

After the children exited their bubble, they sat on the carpet and sang a "Show Me" song, pointing to different parts of the room that were mentioned in the song. One of the boys served as song leader, assisted by a Raggedy Andy hand puppet.

Anita's classroom is gaily decorated with huge Charlie Brown cutouts. The calendar features pictures of Mother Goose characters. A large bulletin board shows a red schoolhouse with a smiling boy and girl and pictures of scissors, glue, etc. surrounding them.

In one corner of the cheerful room are a small table and chairs complete with child-sized dishes and household utensils.

It quickly became obvious to me while observing the class that I'm too old for that sort of thing. There are 21 five year olds in Anita's class, and she's well blessed not only with youth and vitality, but with plenty of patience as she works with the children.

WINNIFRED GOLDEN IS another of the new employees at Gene Howe this year. She will be assisting cafeteria manager, Helen Fain. (Helen is also Winnifred's mother.)

NANCY ROBERTSON HAS begun her sixth grade year and is carrying on her studies in spite of a cast on her right arm.

Nancy is in Mrs. Green's homeroom and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Robertson. She broke her arm while roller skating two weeks ago and will wear the cast for another six weeks.

PACK 130 WILL host an ice cream party at Gene Howe on Thursday, August 28 at 7:00. The party is for all Cubs and their parents, and all boys who are seven and a half to ten years old are invited to attend.

MRS. BILL (PAT) Seth returned home this week from a stay in Southwest Osteopathic Hospital. Pat underwent surgery last week and is reported to be doing just fine.

MRS. RODNEY (JANICE) Gresham's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hazel, visited in her daughter's home last week. Unfortunately Mrs. Hazel caught the flu bug while here and spent most of the week under the weather. She and her husband, Amos Hazel returned to their home in Hartzel, Colorado on Sunday.

* * *

MRS. NICK (SANDY) Kozak is now in the process of selling their home and making preparations for their move to Pensacola, Florida.

Nick, who is a professional wrestler, is already in Florida and Sandy and the children, Scott and Kelesa, hope to be able to join him soon.

Sandy and the children returned this last week from a trip to see Nick in Florida. She and the children especially enjoyed the scenic drive through the Ozarks.

Scott's favorite part of the trip was a visit to Elvis Presley's home in Memphis, Tenn. Sandy said the guard at Elvis's home was really nice; he took a closeup picture of the home for them, using Scott's camera.

The Kozaks also stopped off in Mobile, Ala. where they visited many of the older homes there and toured the U.S.S. Alabama.

Scott also enjoyed fishing and hunting for shells on the beach while in Florida, in spite of the fact that he accidentally stepped on a jellyfish.

THE HERITAGE WOMAN'S Club will be holding a Tupperware Party on Thursday, September 4th at the Girl Scout House in Canyon. The party will begin at 7:00 and the proceeds will be used by the club for convention expenses.

OF COURSE, SINCE next Monday is Labor Day, classes will not be held at Gene Howe.

I hope if you're going somewhere that you'll have a happy, safe trip, and will let me know about it when you get back.

If, like the Farmers, you're planning to spend the long week end at home, you could always come over and help Kyle work on the patio he started last June (that is, if you have nothing else to do.)

Connie Bradley, and her mother, Mrs. Melvin Bradley, of Lockney, finish up the move into McCaslin Hall for the fall term earlier this week on the West Texas State University campus. An increase in enrollment is predicted for the university this fall, with dormitories full and a waiting list established for much on-campus housing.

White Suggests Guidelines For WT Dean Of Education

As West Texas State University begins its search for a new dean of the College of Education, Acting Dean Dan White believes his main role "is to make sure that the administrative functions are carried out."

White was recently appointed by the WTSU board of regents to replace Dr. Jim Kidd, who left to serve as an associate commissioner in the Texas Education Agency.

"In addition to administrative duties, I want to do what I can to maintain faculty morale and insure that the feelings of the students about their college remain positive," White continues.

The head of the Department of Elementary Education, since 1972, White is not interested in the deanship.

"It is very important to me that we get the right person as the dean," he says. "I felt I had the credibility with the faculty, the college and the administration to hold things together until we get the right person in the position. I knew I could do it."

White outlines some of the qualifications for the new dean as "public school teaching experience, administrative experience at the public school and college level, an awareness of the recent changes and need for changes in the public schools, and publication of articles.

"He or she would also need a mixture of maturity, vision and practicality," he continues, "but those are hard things to write down as qualifications."

Any new education dean coming to West Texas State will probably not have many problems in finding jobs for his graduates.

"West Texas State teachers are in demand," White believes. "And any good teacher can find a job."

In considering the supposed oversupply of teachers, White believes "There is one aspect that a lot of people don't think of."

Classrooms throughout the state have one teacher to 35 students, a ratio that is not as conducive to education as one teacher to 20 students.

"We don't have a teacher oversupply in my opinion," White maintains. "We need classrooms that are effective rather than classrooms that are full."

A native of Morris, Okla., White came to West Texas State in 1970 after being at the University of Oklahoma for two years. He received a Doctor of Education degree at Oklahoma and bachelor's and master's degrees at East Central State in Ada, Okla.

He taught in the public schools of Jefferson County, Colo., and Midwest City, Okla. and at the University of Wyoming Laboratory School before going to the University of Oklahoma in 1968.

Business-Supper For Sr. Citizens

'TEXAS' Triangles

As cast members from the outdoor musical drama "TEXAS" finished the final performance of the season on August 23, 92,623 persons had seen the show during the tenth season.

Recipients of the momento triangles this past week included a number of visitors from across the seas. The triangles are given each performance to the person travelling the fartherest to see the show.

The triangle winner for the August 15 performance was unlisted on the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation's records which shows 1,622 persons in the audience that evening covering several groups in attendance from Texas and area states.

A "TEXAS" visitor from Teheran, Iran received the triangle for August 16 with 1,939 in the audience.

On August 18 the triangle award went to Jean Wong, Frank Chi Ang, Ko Yung Ning and Bau Pam visiting here from the Republic of China.

From an audience of 1,624 persons a visitor from Melbourne, Australia received the distance triangle on August 19.

Javid Paknitat of Teheran, Iran received the August 20 triangle during a performance attended by 1,758 persons.

On August 21 the audience numbered 1,662 persons as George Hammerclache of Copenhagen, Denmark was presented with the distance triangle.

Jack Hurehowty of Johannesburg, South Africa took home the triangle from the August 22 performance seen by 1,616 patrons.

And on the final evening of the tenth season, August 23, the "TEXAS" triangle went to R. and J. Goodwin from Capetown, South Africa with 1,668 persons in the audience that evening.

Families Visit Folks In City

Houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Hines recently were Dr. and Mrs. Albert King and daughters, Kimi and Kerisa, who were enroute from Bicester, England to Dekalb, Illinois. Mrs. King the former Sondra Hines, is a daughter of the K. E. Hines and they also visited locally with her brother, Stephen Hines, and family.

Both Dr. and Mrs. King will be teaching at Northwestern State University when they relocate in Dekalb, Illinois.

Other recent guests of the Hines were her cousins, Mary and Ruth McKay of Norman, Oklahoma and Harry and Madonna Janney from California.

The guests were entertained with late summer performances of the outdoor musical drama "TEXAS" in Palo Duro Canyon and were favorably impressed with the sound effects, lighting and costuming, according to Mrs. Hines.

Rodeo Club Members Invited To FCA Meeting

By MARY NEAL HENRY

THE COWBOY CHAPTER of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA) plans to hold a meeting in this area within the next few weeks.

They invite all Tri-State High School Rodeo members to be their special guests and urge them to attend the meeting when it is scheduled. For more information contact Larry (Red) Doyal.

The Cowboy Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes is no high-pressure, fanatical outfit - it is just a group of devoted people who believe.

The idea for the cowboy chapter of the FCA came from famed rodeo clown Wilbur Plaugher, who is almost an institution in the sport with his longevity. The California cowboy - who has also been a tough steer wrestler over the years inspired several others to look into the possibility of getting rodeo into the fellowship. "God remembers everything and everybody," Wilbur said, "it's great to know where you're going if you're a Christian . . . and the promises the Bible gives."

Wilbur Plaugher was the Cowboys' Chapter of FCA's first president. Walter Arnold of Silverton, who won over $110 at the Happy Steer Roping recently, is the current president.

Permit me to share this Cowboy Prayer written by Badger Clark.

O Lord I've never lived where churches grow;
I've loved creation better as it stood
That day you finished it so long ago,
And looked upon your work and called it good.

Just let me live my life as I've begun!
And give me work that's open to the sky;
Make me a partner of the wind and sun,
And I won't ask a life that's soft or high.

Make me as big and open as the plains;
As honest as the horse between my knees;
Clean as the wind that blows behind the rains;
Free as the hawk that circles down the breeze.

Just keep an eye on all that's done and said;
Just right me sometimes when I run aside;
And guide me on the long, dim trail ahead —
That stretches upward towards the Great Divide.
